

SAP INTERNATIONAL

Welcome to our Monthly newsletter October Orientation event at Sap International Introduction

Sap international strives to empower the community everywhere with skills which will help them to open the door worldwide. Whether you are working or not, the requirements is to have university certificate in order to be able to register at Socrates Academy Project management. The program is provided in two languages both English and French. This open opportunity assist learners to achieve news skills in Project management. As we are now days facing most importantly information and technology changes, organizations, companies need to adhere to news kills in order develop and be productive.

We recently launch the orientation session of new learners 8th promotion. The event was started by open speech of training manager who firstly gave presentation and highlight activities of institution and welcome news learners to feel at home as we make one family. The encouragement message was delivered by director of institution.

The main speech of the event was given by CEO of an Academy where he firstly introduced administration team and briefly deliver a message about Sap international. In fact Sap international is an accredited institution based in Nairobi that provide training for project management, it has been accredited by SOCAFIM Canada institution and awarded by British organization for quality learning its provides. The program consist of six compulsory modules that must be completed in order to get Post graduate diploma in project management. However there's three methods of learning to achieve the goal.Thirstly learners have to access the platform where they discover more information of the module. Secondly there is one class discussion every week and thirdly meeting with trainer by appointment.He welcome new cohort of learners and wish them to succeed.

We are currently proceeding with certification of learners who just complete the program in project management and are eager to be awarded with this wonderful qualification.

We are also planning to launch a free webinar which will take place in coming days where everyone interested will be invited to attend conference. Allow you this opportunity to know more what sap international stand for and provides.

We would like to congratulate everyone who participate in our orientation session last month. If you would you like to learn more about Sap international, visit: www.sapinternational.net.

VISIT US AT WWW.SAPINTERNATIONAL.NET